END-OF-BOOK ACTIVITIES

Choose three activities in a row—horizontally, vertically or diagonally.

Create a new Make at least 10 Write a letter to character for the math word the author story. Write a problems for your character sketch. Tell offering ideas class using what part she/he will for a sequel to information from play and how the this book. the book story changes with this new character. Make a 3-D Tape a musical Reconstruct the sculpture of someone collage of songs to story in rebus or something from represent the action form -substituting your book and write in your book from pictures for some a paragraph telling start to finish. Write of the common who or what it is and a paragraph its significance to the explaining your nouns. book. choices.

Take a poll of others who read this book to determine such things as their favorite character, the most exciting part, the main idea, and write a report based on your poll.

Write a letter to the teacher explaining what you liked and disliked about the characters and the book and how you felt about it before you read it and then after you read it.

Create a comic-book version of a chapter or portion of your book - complete with conversation bubbles.

Building Literature Circles